

Nomination Form

Charles J. Parker Award

Recognition of an Individual's Contribution to the Development of the Travel Industry in North Carolina

Rules and Regulations

In recognition of outstanding contributions individuals have made to develop the travel industry in North Carolina, the North Carolina Travel Industry Association established awards named for individuals who contributed so much to travel in North Carolina during their lifetime.

Charles J. Parker Award to an Individual

1. That the individual be a resident of the State of North Carolina at the time exemplary service is performed.
2. That the individual's contribution is an apparent service to the development and/or promotion of travel in North Carolina.
3. That this service transcend the individual's mere personal financial gain. In other words, be above and beyond the call of his/her particular business or assigned duty, if employed.

Additional Guidelines for Awards

1. No elected government official, government employee, or governmental agency can be considered for the awards during his/her term of office or employment.
2. No organization whose primary funding (50% or more) comes from tax or governmental sources is eligible.
3. An unsuccessful candidate one year may be renominated for the Award the following year or for any number of subsequent years.
4. No president, president-elect, or immediate past president or employee of the NCTIA is eligible for consideration during his or her term in office or employment.
